Goldarths Review launches Luxury Blog

October 2006 - Goldarths Review, the online luxury magazine, has launched 'Current Affairs', a new luxury blog.

With the tagline "Blogging the latest and greatest in luxury", Current Affairs aims to become the definitive blog for news and developments in the world of luxury.

"The amount of information pulsing through the Internet everyday is staggering", explains Editor-in-Chief Dominic Khoo.

"Current Affairs complements the bi-monthly magazine by providing timely updates on the most exciting news in the luxury sphere. This is in line with Goldarths Review's mantra of maximizing the potential of online content delivery."
